Individuals who are able to transform data into actionable knowledge are in demand. In fact, the FP&A™ position is the hardest to fill. Rice University's two-part live, instructor-led online FP&A program helps you prepare for the FP&A certification exam developed by the Association for Financial Professionals (AFP) to test the mastery of core functions in the FP&A role.

Please visit our FP&A exam page for eligibility requirements and information on how to register for the FP&A exam.
